Addition– you could use lego bricks to count or cars. When you have worked out the answer, use the number line to help you write it.